

THAT DREAM AGAIN (solo by THE CAT)

I had that dream again last night,
U know that dream where everything is alright.
I eat from a bowl, I poop in a box, the whole whole house is my bed,
and it totally rocks but then I wake up and here I am hiding under cars and eating from cans I'm surrounded bi these search-lites & security cams but nobody's looking for me.
Is the dream just a memory? could it be all that I've ever hoped for has already happened to me?
washed up and thrown out in the parking lot, what gud is the dream if the nightmare nevr stops or is the dream a prophecy, a Hang-In-There-Kitty reminding me of how life could B if that's all it is, it's good enough and I can face the world knowing the dream is worth dreaming bcuz it keeps me going
I had that dream again last night,
U know that dream the 1 where everythings alright but everything is wrong nothing's OK I spend my days waiting for someone to pick me up and to take me away. so please, please listen gentle passer-by hear my query, hear my cry please take me home and stop passing me by.
